

Uncertainty from training data per temperature or power measurement normalized by uncertainty from training data