

per temperature or power measurement normalized by uncertainty from training data